This is not bloated news, it's just well covered.

Le Pape

Issue 81 | 18th–19th Sunday in Ordinary Time, 10 August

SHOCKING VIDEO CAPTURES POLICE OFFICERS HANDLING SITUATION NON-VIOLENTLY

Graphic footage has emerged from an incident between Oralian police officers and an African-Oralian man which occurred last month. In the footage the officers can be seen calmly speaking with the man who is seated in a 1998 Crown Victoria before he confesses to an illegal lane change. The video then shows one of the police officers gently warning the man to indicate before changing lanes to maintain road safety. A shocked bystander posted the footage to social media last week promoting a statement from the outgoing PolOra commissioner. "PolOra is consulting with the man's family and the officers involved have been spoken to," the statement, issued on Tuesday read, "it would be unhelpful to provide further comment this early in the investigation." On 29 June the... continued page 2

This fortnight on the Digital Social Interconnected-web Internet Site:

Oramus Pavi @ministerpavi • 2h

We do not want a war.

68.7K 78.5K 904.1K

Oramus Pavi @ministerpavi • 58m

However,

25.1K 17K 107.3 K

Larisa Novus McDonalds brings back beloved Snack-Rat

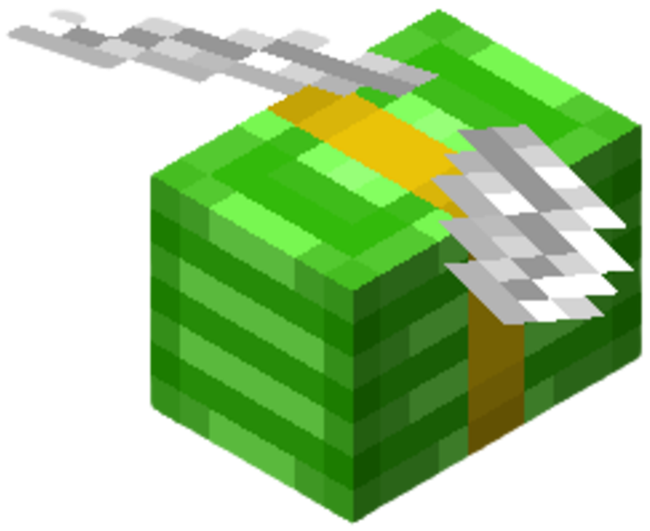
Larisa Novus — The newly opened Larisa Novus McDonald's has announced the return of its iconic "Snack Rat," citing increasing popular demand. Last month, the fast food store announced it would cease the sale of the popular product due to legal threats from KFC, who claimed to have a patent on the delicacy. Mr Ausball—who owns the Larisa Novus McDonalds—responded by buying KFC, thus ensuring the continued sale of his best loved snack. The trillionaire and former politician also alluded to a possible "deal" with Bathtub Living to increase the supply of "rodents"—which is apparently one of the main ingredients.

continued from page 1... Unified States, ordered the complete dissolution of police forces in the Far Oralian Area, replacing them with the Marine Corps. On advice from the M2C Consultancy Firm, the de facto government also established the Institute For Friendly Yanking Out of Illegals (IFFY) "to better cleanse the Unified States of this terrorist scourge." The institute is currently employing a mass deportation strategy to ensure that "the hood stays clean." IFFY OI's "security force," comprised mainly of foreign PMCs, has reportedly raided villages along the coast of Nonya (Business), mainly targeting 'terrorism-prone' areas, such as banks or rich people. Queried about the Ora incident, a spokesman for Midway2Conquest (the Russo oligarch behind the bold new strategy) commented "this is an extremely distressing situation," though he did not specify who exactly would find it distressing. "The incident," he elaborated, "only emphasises the wisdom of this restructuring, to rid our law enforcement of officers like this: people who are incapable firstly of assessing situations that warrant the use of a firearm or landing a good punch. I mean, come on, this guy was in a car for goodness sake. For one, they're illegal in most of the country and there's no way he could have gotten a Crown Vic legally. Why not? I mean, just look at him… no? Is it just me?"

Local: 34-Year-Old Asks For Big Piece

Republic of Ora — Directing the server to the large square in the corner, local 34-year-old Fatt Ey asked for a big piece of cake during a workplace birthday party, sources confirmed on Tuesday. "Can I get that big one right there? Yep, that one," said the senior marketing manager, husband, and father of two while eagerly holding out his plastic plate in anticipation, having actively sought out the slice not only for its size but also because it had a full, intact icing flower on it. "Yeah, you got it. Perfect," said the "well covered" man. ON

Le Pape



Free your wallet!

Join the US's finest network

Le Pape
DV ON THE RIS
NEW PM AN SPEECHES IN FIRST MILITA
'WHAT THE H
Le Pape
'I'm sick of overcrowded hospital wards,' says MD
HEALTHCARE CONCERNS PLAGUE ORA
Ora's former PM Estella Consummatum has been appointed Minister for Health in a sudden fling by the Pavi/Mortem administration to bring the public approval polls back to a "healthy state." It follows months of outcry from doctors and medical institutions as well as patients who are… impatient with the delays to build Ora's planned hospital or expand the current 4 bed ward at the Capuchin seminary. "I'm just so sick of the overcrowding," said Dr Harm, one of the directors of 'Make Ora Healthy Again,' a lobby group dedicated to improvements to Ora's healthcare system. Another doctor, Dr Price, who leads the bulk–billing department for GovOra, spoke of his experience working in what he described as a "dying" medical industry: "We had this guy come in one day; he had to have his whole left side amputated; arms, legs… ears, everything! He's all right now… but I think it just goes to show the sort of things people will have to go through if we don't properly arm our medical practices." Estella Consummatum has accepted the portfolio saying she's "not shocked," but says it's "because the prime minister wants to get rid of me. He wants to put me in a place where I can't actually do anything."
In Short: ArchiveOra is set to launch official pages for Ora and Commonwealth, plus notable people, events and buildings later this year. Pavi is "interested" in buying project shares.
GovOra has officially confirmed the development of the rumoured trans-Ora/Larisa Novus map which will eventually include "straight-up every settlement in Greater Ora." The village of Melbadorra, home to the Senate, has been added to the binational project currently being worked on in a top secret military bunker (800 m east of Mount St Augustine).
A TALE OF RUSSIA AND ORA
A Tale of Russia and Ora
edited by Prof. Reid
https://flbcyzine.com/flip-book/c1f6e3f1f155.html